

108 W. Parrish St. Durham, N.C.

HISTORIC PARRISH STREET FORUM

Maximum Occupancy

49 People

Amenities

Banquet Tables
Chairs
Kitchenette
Conference Tables
6'x 9' Presentation Screen
Ceiling Mounted Projector
Podium
Microphone
Wireless Internet

Parking

Parking is available close to the Forum. There is a City of Durham parking deck around the corner on E. Chapel Hill St., across the street from the post office.

The Historic Parrish Street Forum is a unique ground floor space, that is one-part event venue, one-part history exhibit.

Located in downtown Durham, the Forum is adorned with displays commemorating the legacy of Durham's Black History and especially that of Parrish Street, also known as Durham's Black Wall Street.

The Forum is outfitted with a state of the art audio/visual system. There are tables and chairs to suit a variety of events. There is also a kitchenette that allows for the preparation of food items during your time of use.

The Historic Parrish Street Forum is perfect for classes, small receptions, corporate workshops, business luncheons, and cultural arts events.

